Your Company's Growing... too fast.

Well, that's awesome. Except you can't remember who's available, who's capable of doing XYZ, and oh yeah, how are we supposed to staff this upcoming project???

Employees GO!

Once you upload your roster, all employees will receive an email to
A.) install our world-famous desktop app
B.) claim their profile in our web app

Broadcast Short-Term Availability

Our desktop tool sits on your employee's tray, out of the way, and allows them to quickly broadcast availability to your company with just one click!

Employee Management

Staff Mapper asks each employee to indicate weekly availability and self-assess their proficiency in skills you indicated were important.

At this point, you probably thinking, so what?

Here's where Staff Mapper goes into overdrive.

Claim someone's time. That's ROI!

The short-term broadcast will be visible to anyone in the organization. Their time can be claimed to help with a small task for that day - who knows maybe that will lead to a larger project!

Staff a project, effectively.

Staff Mapper's proprietary algorithm accounts for availability, skills, tenure, and team feedback to provide recommendations on who the best people are for any given project.

Collect 360 feedback on projects!

After the conclusion of a project, each employee will be prompted to provide 360 feedback on other team members part of that project.

Over time, Staff Mapper has the ability to more accurately determine optimal staffing scenarios and allow you to project availability.

A centralized resource management system, with very little touch and BIG impact.
